

Tamara Hardman undertook an Elevate Mentorship with screenwriter Matthew Cormack of Closer Productions. Photo by Morgan Sette.

ELEVATE MENTORSHIP PROGRAM

Applications for Helpmann Academy's Elevate Mentorship Program (Round 2) are now open - matching emerging creatives with established professionals to undertake specifically designed mentorship programs.

The program is a valuable way to build on an emerging career by providing knowledge and experience beyond study, at a point of transition and exploration. Elevate aims to enable career development through further learning, development of skills, advice, and networking. This can take the form of creative development or business/entrepreneurial acumen. We especially encourage applicants to consider online options for mentorships at this time.

Valued at up to $3,000, the funding allows for payment to the mentor and assists the mentee in covering any expenses associated with undertaking the mentorship. The payment structure is flexible and can be tailored to meet the needs of the artists involved.

Examples of how a mentorship can be structured include (but are not limited to):

- Studio visits, allowing for the hands-on development of skills and observational learning.

- Development sessions for a dance, music or theatre work.
- Film script development and advice on editing a film.
- Advice on mounting an exhibition.
- Assistance with establishing the business and practical side of an arts practice (e.g. writing a business or marketing plan).

Proposing online alternatives for all activities is encouraged in the current global environment. An online mentorship is an amazing opportunity to connect with a mentor without the barrier of geography. You have the freedom to choose whatever mentor you deem most beneficial to your artistic development at this time, regardless of their location. The only limitation is your imagination!

APPLICATIONS CLOSE FRIDAY 4 DECEMBER AT 11:59PM ACDT

FOR MORE INFORMATION OR TO APPLY VISIT www.helpmannacademy.com.au/mentorships/elevate-mentorships/